

NEWS of the RACK VCV

key events • new modules • developer news • module videos • contests • and more

Hello everyone in Rack Land,

we have real first-world problems in VCV-Rack. Today I count 1234 modules in my plugin browser, 13 more than three weeks ago. But a message this week makes this incredible number tiny. Of course, I'm talking about VCV Host and VCV Host FX, which make it possible to use VST plug-ins in VCV rack. First videos have shown what to expect. I have to admit, I'm pretty ambivalent in that regard. On the one hand I am happy about every new module I have access to, on the other hand I feel overwhelmed by the amount of modules. The danger that many modules will be overlooked is great. All the more important are the Very Cool Patch Challenge and videos that focus on little-known modules.

And now to the news.

Developer News

Lindenberg Research has now released the final version 0.6.4 of its modules. For most modules there are now 12 different skins available.

Amalgamated Harmonics has reworked its modules and is now at version 0.6.3.1.

<https://github.com/jhoar/AmalgamatedHarmonics>

In version 0.6.18, Vult added the motifs of VCV and Pete Johnson to his 3 HP Blank module. Now these can also be reproduced via scope.

New modules

Challenges

In Edition 19 of the Very Cool Patch Challenge is the module to be used the Bogaudio Additator and contributions can be submitted until 11/19/2018 at midnight and a new challenge will be announced on 20.11.2018.

In the meantime, this is no longer a competition and commercial modules may also be used. More

Ben de Groot, the Godfather of the VCP, releases an album called Winter Solstice on Bandcamp on December 22, the day of the winter solstice. He invites you to submit a piece of music in the form of a drone in the key b until 15 December, which should appear on this album. For more information about the prerequisites, see
