Hello everyone in Rackland,

I did it! My iPad and my Linux computer finally understand each other. Now I can control parameters in a VCV rack using a touch-screen via Bluetooth Midi and I can also use Arpeggiomane and Fugue Machine with a VCV rack. The latter is absolutely great because I have not yet found a way to simulate how these two apps work. In any case, the first tests were promising, now I just hope that my computing power is also sufficient. In 2014 my computer was high end, but now is 2020 ...

And now for the news

Developer News & other News

So that VCV-Rack will continue to meet the needs of users in the future, there is now a survey for everyone who uses the program under Linux.

In version 1.14.2, a bug in the Quantizer Probably Not(e)-Arabic was eliminated by Frozen Wasteland.

Bidoo also improved its modules again with version 1.1.22. This time bugs in zOÙ MAï and antN were fixed.

Glue from stoermelder also had a bug, which is a thing of the past with version 1.6.3.

MindMeldModular continues to work on the BassMaster. At the moment it looks like there will also be a senior version with a VU meter, but at the moment there are new versions on the developer's github page almost every hour.

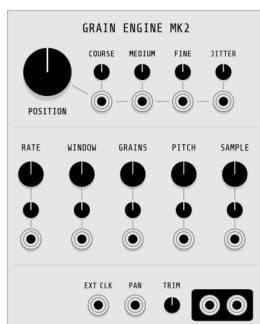

Beta-Versions (wip)

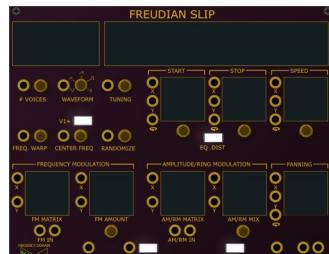

New Modules

After successful crowdfunding, the time has come: Audible Instruments EQ Filter is officially available in the library. The module is based on Shelves from Mutable Instruments and was converted to VCV-Rack by Alright Devices.

Voxglitch, the specialist in granular synthesis, has expanded its grain engine with further options and is now presenting the Grain Engine MK2.

Frequency Domain, the joint project by Frozen Wasteland and SV Modular, has released the Freudian Slip module, a resynthesizing sampler.

Challenges & Collaborations

Very Cool Patch Challenge

Edition 54 of the Very Cool Patch Challenge once again focuses on a single module. This time, a patch is to be created with the Arp module from Hampton Harmonics. There is time until June 1st and the contributions are summarized as always in a playlist.

Edition 53 of the Very Cool Patch Challenge was all about Caribbean rhythms. Participants should be inspired by reggae, samba, rumba, merengue and create a corresponding patch.
